Cookie Policy

What are cookies and what do we need them for?

We, Sentien HQ s.r.o. ("Sentien"), operating the web site www.sentienhq.com use cookies. The aim of this Cookie Policy (the "Cookie Policy") is to explain how this technology work and why we need it.

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer or other device by websites that you visit. Cookies are used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site.

Each cookie has a different "shelf life" - different storage time on your device. Some cookies will be deleted from your device after you close the browser window (session cookies), others will remain on your device even after you quit browsing our website (permanent cookies).

Why do we use cookies?

Cookies allow us to remember your actions and preferences (e.g. language preferences, shopping cart contents) over a period of time, so you don't have to re-enter them each time you return to a website or navigate from one website to another.

At the same time, cookies help us to understand what is interesting for you on our website, whether it is well arranged for you and what you are looking for. We therefore use cookies to improve the user experience.

Cookies may also record additional information, such as the number of visitors to our Site, as well as which subpages of our site you visit most frequently.

What cookies do we use?

1. Functional and technical cookies - These cookies ensure the proper functioning of our website, for example, provide the function of storing goods in the shopping cart, allow effective display of content, etc. Without these cookies our website would not work properly so their use is necessary. Retention period of these cookies is usually short, so we don't ask you to agree to store them.

2. Analytics Cookies - These cookies are used to collect data about traffic to our Site, information about searches made on our Site, and to determine how you navigate our Site so that we can make it as easy as possible for you to use it. We have taken precautions to prevent misuse of these cookies (anonymization) and at the same time there are implemented measures to easily control and restrict the use of these cookies. We use Matomo Analytics on our private server to maintain full control of Analytic Cookies and protect your privacy.

Managing or removing cookies

There are several ways to manage or limit how we use cookies. The most common method is to adjust settings of your browser:

- Browser settings: Although most browsers have basic settings that accept cookies, their settings allow you to delete or reject cookies. However, please note that some of the services provided may not work properly in this case.
